

Dear Kennebec House Residents, (just 808 Kennebec)
Down with quarters! It's a pain for you to get them and it's a pain for me to count and roll them.

I just installed the ClearToken way of paying for your laundry with your smart phone.

The price remains the same as before: $1.25 for a wash; 25¢ per 7-minute interval for drying, when using quarters. However, from now until the end of February, the ClearToken prices are just 75¢ per wash and 15¢ per 7-minute interval for drying.

To employ ClearToken there are just 3 steps:

1. Go to <https://www.paywithplastic.com> and sign up with your telephone number and your credit card.
2. On your phone go to your app store, look up, and install ClearToken.
3. Next time you need to wash or dry, bring up the ClearToken app on your phone, select the appropriate machine (washer or dryer), and purchase a wash or variable drying time.

The app will let you know when your wash is nearly done. (The company will provide an update so you can get the same notification for the variable dryer time.)

Note: You can continue to use quarters, but from now on ClearToken is preferred.

Please get back to me and let me know your experience with ClearToken.

Thanks,

Rich
